SAINT OF THE WEEK

St. Cecilia

St. Cecilia, the patron Saint of Music, was born in Rome. She was married, as tradition, to a Roman officer and spent her life as a housewife. In her marriage she would speak about the love of Jesus and remained faithful to the Lord in her vow of chastity. She would speak to her husband, Valerian, and tell him about the love of the Lord throughout her marriage. Her husband converted to Catholicism, and in conversation with Cecilia, so did his brother.

During this era it was forbidden to bury the bodies of Christians. Newly-Baptized Valerian, and his brother, then dedicated themselves to burying the bodies of all Christians they found. For this act they were arrested and brought before a judge who ordered them to worship the Roman god Jupiter, and were martyred when they refused to deny their Christian faith. The police then came for Cecilia and strongly advised her to renounce her faith. She responded, “I would prefer to die than denounce my faith.”

According to legend, upon hearing her response, the soldiers brought her to stand in front of a large oven with the intention of suffocating her by the emitted toxic and hot gas. However, instead of choking Cecelia began to sing. She was immediately struck by the sword, and after three days, passed away.

St. Cecilia symbolizes the central role of music in the liturgy.
